Ladd Genealogy

SAMUEL GREENLEAF LADD's first ancestor in America was DANIEL LADD, who came to New England with his wife ANN LADD and arrived in the ship Mary and John, of London, England, March 24, 1633-4, at the port of Boston. They settled first at Ipswich, Mass. They subsequently became original settlers of Salisbury, Mass., in 1639; and of Haverhill, Mass., before 1649.

Of their family NATHANIEL (1) was the seventh child, who married Elizabeth Gilman. He died of wounds August 11, 1691, received in fighting Indians at Maquoit, Mass., (afterwards Maine). They had seven children, of whom the first was NATHANIEL (2), Ladd, b. April 6, 1697, at Exeter, New Hampshire. He married Ann Hilton. They had two children, of whom DUDLEY (1), b. March, 1711, married Alice Hurley, December 15, 1748. These had children of whom the sixth was DUDLEY (2) Ladd, b. July 8, 1758, who married Bethia Hutchins, daughter of Gordon Hutchins, who was Captain of the 1st New Hampshire Regiment in the battle of Bunker Hill, and also Lieut-Colonel of the 2d New Hampshire Regiment in the battle of White Plains, N. Y. This DUDLEY LADD was a Volunteer to reinforce the Northern Army of the American Revolution in 1777. He died December 23, 1841.

Of their thirteen children, SAMUEL GREENLEAF was the oldest of five sons and was born April 14, 1784, and died May 3, 1863.

American Ancestors of Samuel Greenleaf Ladd

His maternal ancestry included two of the earliest New England families, HUTCHINS and STONE.

GORDON HUTCHINS was the son of William Hutchins, who on February 2, 1721, married Bethia Carleton, daughter of Thomas and Elvira Carleton of Exeter, New Hampshire. Bethia Carleton was thus a lineal descendent of Edward and Ellen Carleton of the company of twenty families, who were brought by Ezekiel Rogers from England in December, 1638, and settled in Rowley, Mass., April 30, or May 1, 1639. Edward Carleton was made a freeman in 1642 and was a representative of Rowley in the General Court for two years—1646, 1647—according to Town of Rowley Records and History of Rowley in the General Court.

GORDON HUTCHINS married DOROTHY STONE, daughter of Ephraim Stone, in Harvard, Mass., who was son of Joseph Stone, whose will is recorded in Middlesex Records, Vol. XV, p. 483; and grandson of Samuel Stone, whose father, Samuel Stone, arrived in Boston from England with Thomas Hooker and John Cotton.

A Genealogical Record of Samuel Greenleaf Ladd

BETHIA HUTCHINS was born August 29, 1765, and married DUDLEY LADD. Of their thirteen children SAMUEL GREENLEAF LADD was the oldest, born April 14, 1784. Lieut.-Colonel Hutchins was representative of the Provincial Congress from Concord, New Hampshire, which was held in New Hampshire in 1777.

The ADAMS ancestry of CAROLINE DE OLIVIER VINAL—wife of SAMUEL GREENLEAF LADD, is as follows, according to Savage's Genealogical Directory, Vol 1:

HENRY ADAMS was the English ancestor, and was born in 1626 in England. He married Abigail Baxter, November 26, 1650. Of their children were JOSEPH ADAMS (2), b. 1654, and JOHN ADAMS, a twin, b. December 3, 1661, who was the third son of a large family. This John Adams left Braintree and went to sea and is known as Captain John Adams, residing in Boston. He married twice. His first wife was Hannah, daughter of Christopher Webb. Their children were (1) Hannah, b. January 24, 1685; (2) John, b. September 27, 1687; (3) Samuel, b. May 6, 1689.

This SAMUEL ADAMS was deacon of a Boston church and married Mary Fifield, only daughter of Richard Fifield, living on Purchase St., Boston. Their son, SAMUEL, b. September 22, 1722, was the illustrious Governor of Massachusetts and Patriot of the American Revolution.

JOHN ADAMS. son of Captain John and Hannah Adams, b. September 27, 1727, was a merchant in Boston and married Susanna Hoppin, daughter of Nicholas and Susanna Hoppin, August 28, 1729. They had two children: John, b. May 15, 1731, and Margaret, b. April 13, 1733.*

This JOHN ADAMS married MARY OLIVER, daughter of Daniel Oliver and Bethaia Fiske, and born May 24, 1745.†

Their daughter SUSANNA ADAMS, baptized August 1, 1773, married John Vinal, Jr., April 18, 1793. This makes Captain John Adams above, grandfather to Samuel Adams, Governor and Patriot, and also to John Adams, who married Mary Oliver; and great grandfather to Susanna Adams, who married John Vinal, Jr.

the United States, being descendent from Joseph (2), brother of Captain John Adams; was second cousin to Samuel Adams, Patriot:

PRESIDENT JOHN ADAMS' line of descent started from Joseph (2) married to a second wife, Hannah Bass, daughter of John Bass and Ruth Alden Bass, who had a son, Joseph (3), b. 1689 and d. February 12, 1736; also a son JOHN, who was made deacon of Braintree church, May 11, 1747, and d. May 25, 1767. He married Susanna, daughter of Peter Boylston, and was father of (1) JOHN ADAMS President of the United States, b. 1735; (2) Captain Peter Boylston Adams, b. 1738, and (3) Captain Elisha Adams, b. 1741.

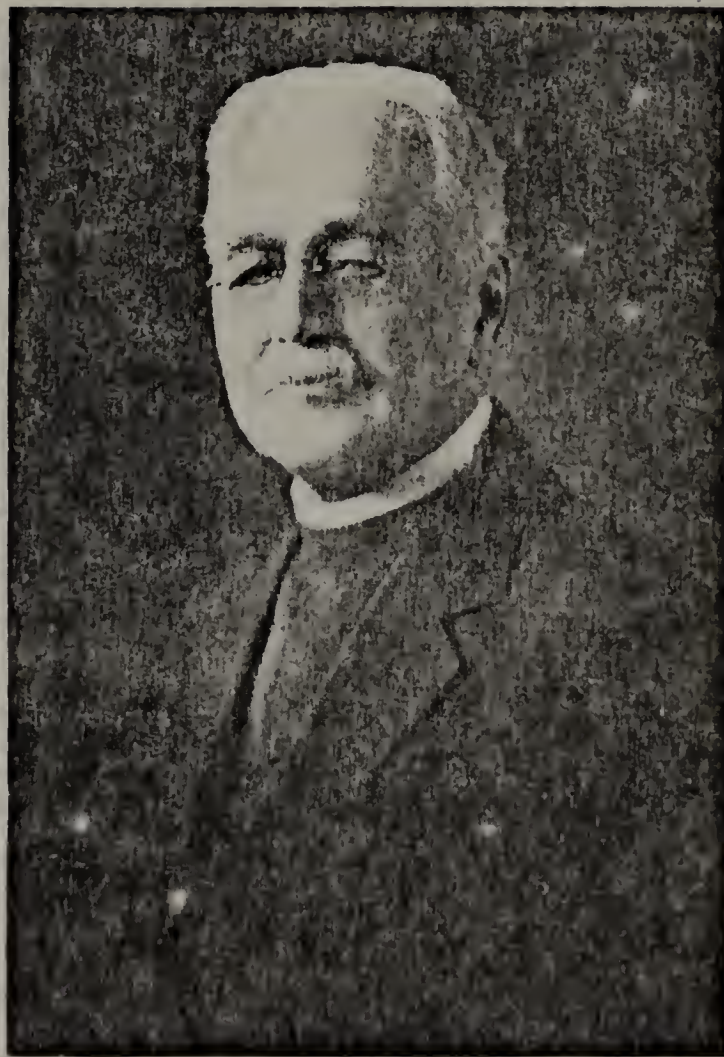

PRESIDENT JOHN ADAMS, married Abigail Smith, and their children were (1) Abigail, (2) John Quincy, (3) Charles, (4) Susanna, (5) Thomas Boylston.

The Family of Samuel Greenleaf Ladd and His Wife

SAMUEL GREENLEAF LADD married CAROLINE DE OLIVIER VINAL October 3, 1815.

Biographical Notes

GENERAL LADD came as a young man from Concord, New Hampshire to Hallowell, Maine, where he founded and maintained a large hardware establishment and stove manufactory. It was his life-long business. After the separation of Maine from Massachusetts, in 1819, he was the second to hold the office of Adjutant-General of the State of Maine. He held this office for two terms and during that time organized the militia of that state. In the War of 1812-1814 he was Captain of a militia company from Kennebec County, which marched to Wiscasset for its defense. He was a member of the Congregational Church of Hallowell, when he married Caroline Vinal. All his children, eleven, were born there. He moved from Hallowell in 1840 to Farmington, Maine, thence to Auburn, Maine, and last to Brunswick, Maine, where in a few years his home was broken up and with his wife he went to live in Kingston, Pennsylvania with his daughter Ellen and her husband, Rev. Henry H. Welles, D.D., until his death.

ton, Mass., and grandson of Samuel Stone, lived in Harvard, Mass.*

GORDON HUTCHINS lived with his wife, Dorothy, daughter of Ephraim Stone, in the house still standing in Harvard, Mass.

HENRY ADAMS, born in England 1604, the ancestor of the Braintree, Mass., family was a Puritan emigrant, who came from Flore, North Hampshire, England. The Adams cottage owned by Charles Francis Adams and some other citizens of Boston was within a few miles of Sulgrave Manor, the ancestral home of George Washington. From that section came to America the ancestral families of Benjamin Franklin, William Penn, and Henry W. Longfellow.†

GORDON HUTCHINS.‡ He raised a company and was commissioned captain of the same May 23, 1775, by the Committee of Public Safety at Exeter, N. H. It was attached to the 1st N. H. command under General Stark at Bunker Hill battle; occupied with other N. H. troops, a position behind the rail
